The Nine Parishes of South Elmham (sometimes Southelmham) lie in an area near Redenhall and just south of the River Waveney (Norfolk / Suffolk boundary). The area was the stompin ground of our Whiting ancestors until they moved across the river to Aldburg and later Starston in the second quarter of the 1700s. We know this through their wills, a couple of burials and possibly a wedding – but church records have proved elusive, possibly because they were early non-conformists.

WHITING ANCESTORS (also Whiteing, Whytinge and possibly other spellings)

The earliest and best appointed church is South Elmham St James.

WHITING ANCESTORS (also Whiteing, Whytinge and possibly other spellings)

The others are Homersfield (aka South Elmham St Mary)

South Elmham St Cross (aka St George), South Elmham All Saints cum St Nicholas (whose own church disappeared a long time ago), South Elmham St Margaret, South Elmham St Michael, South Elmham St Peter and Flixton (rebuilt in 1861).

The stories of the area and its churches can be found here: <http://nineparishes.wikispaces.com/home>

				26 Sept 1654	St Mary Diss	P-Reg & free- reg
Elizabeth Wiseman*	29 Nov 1632	Wymond ham Abbey ?	FreeReg				20 April 1698	South Elmham St James, Suffolk	pjr & FMP No P- Reg yet	65		See below
Children	James, Yeoman of Homersfield (bu1728, Homersfield aka South Elmham St Mary), Samuel – Yeoman of Alburgh (m Elizabeth Mapes, had son called Jabez* who married his first cousin (we think) Elizabeth Whiting in 1731) (Sam bu April 1729, Alburgh), Joseph (m Elizabeth) (bu May 1729, Alburgh), Susanna, Elizabeth, Sarah (bu 1687 SELham St James). See also wills on next page.
Marriage	The All Saints Alburgh parish register records marriage banns being read on 3, 10, 17 September 1654. Nothing read in Pulham found yet (could be separate book). The St Mary Diss register records their marriage on 26 September 1654.
Residence	At their marriage (in Diss) William was “from Allburgh” and Elizabeth was “from Pulham St Mary”. Later the family lived in Homersfield (Suffolk). Have searched the Pulhams PRegs unsuccessfully for her ch. Ditto Alburgh for him.

Wills & Inventories	William – we have photo of original will (1683) by NRO, and also photo of original his 1684 probate inventory Elizabeth – we have our photos of original 1695 will and original 1698 inventory
*Elizabeth’s maiden name	Elizabeth’s maiden name originally from rogerlwh “Whiting Family Tree” on Ancestry – (emailed but no response) http://trees.ancestry.co.uk/tree/29258323/family?cfpid=12153145343 . Confirmed by identity of her Dad Richard in Alburgh banns record. marriage record. Have done a quick check of Pulham St M V – no ch record for her discovered there, or later marriage banns. Wymondham p-reg inscrutable – just within our main geographic area.

Children	John (bu 1729, Homersfield) , James, Sarah (Brock) (bu 1730 Alburgh), Susan, Elizabeth, Hannah
Residence	Homersfield. From c1709 on James was Lord of the Manor of Limbourne (a little manor bordering Homersfield) which presumably he purchased (and later bequeathed in his will).
Wills	James Whiting will – we have pics of original June 1721 - mentions his “Manor of Lymbon”. Ann Whiting, widow of Homersfield, pic of will dated 10 January 1729 (ie 1729-30) James' Brothers - we have cleaned up images of register copies of wills of Samuel Whiting (1729) and Joseph Whiting(1729)
*Ann's surname	Neech - from lds P-Reg m record discovered by pjr March 2013, though it looks like Nrech & her ch record looks like Norch! Have found marriage of parents Robert (definitely Neech) & Anna (possibly Poole). BUT there is just a bit of doubt about whether this is the “right” Ann & James – see next page
